

Dear Mr. Powell,

I'm deeply concerned about the possible repeal of FCC rules that limit a company from owning a TV station and a newspaper in the same geographic area. As someone who tries to be an informed citizen, I'm increasingly aware of the consolidation of the "business" of information in the hands of a few huge corporations. This is frightening to those of us who care about freedom and democracy. If you repeal this rule, the situation will only be made worse. Don't pander to corporate interests!
